PRESENTATION

The aim of ENCATC Capacity Building Days and Youth in Action Day is to develop an interactive and intensive learning offer in order to increase youth and adult education professionals' knowledge about the policies and programmes in the field of culture and education. This will allow for the exchange of experiences and good practices among the participants in terms of European project development and project management.

The methodology of the programme is mixed: part seminar, the participants will work self-directed, part will consist of study visits. There will be discussions and working groups. Participants will meet representatives from cultural institutions and organisations, which will give them the opportunity to discuss developments with them.

A DYNAMIC THREE-DAY PROGRAMME

These three days in Venice present a unique learning experience different from other offers currently available.

From covering theory and practice to having a holistic approach, the programme's topics include:

- The role of a European network in the internationalization and professionalization of the career of young cultural managers and operators
- The role of UNESCO: policies and actions for the sustainability of cultural heritage
- The role of the Council of Europe in the area of culture and the new European Cultural Heritage Strategy for the 21st Century
- How the arts sector interacts with cultural rights and human rights
- How to place audiences at the centre of cultural organisations

- Leadership and management for cultural organisations
- Strategic culture-based design and innovative story telling
- Innovative ideas for the preservation and enhancement of cultural heritage
- Opportunities and challenges for the sustainability of the cultural heritage
- Training for cultural management: scenarios, practices, new challenges
- Opportunities for building transnational projects with cultural operators and organisations from Europe and beyond

The topics addressed are complemented by interventions and presentations of projects, best practice, and experiences from professionals and experts working in the field of culture and heritage.

There will also be many networking opportunities for participants to exchange with peers and expand professional networks. To further foster professional networking, on the evening of 16 May ENCATC is organising its 37th Cultural Happy Hour with a walking tour of some of the Venice Biennale pavilions and a glass of wine.

ENCATC Capacity Building Days and Youth in Action Day

Tip sheet: The 3 Bs

Getting the most out of your experience!

1. BE ACTIVE

We would like to remind all participants that they are precisely that - participants - not observers, let alone passive observers. As with any event of this kind, it is only as valuable as the input shared from each person who attends. Don't be shy about sharing your ideas in this open environment.

2. BE OPEN

This is your opportunity to learn about different ideas and perspectives. We each come with our own experiences and points of view. With nine countries represented there is a wealth and richness among the group.

3. BE CURIOUS

The programme here in Venice offers special access to leaders and influences in the field of cultural management and policy. Let's learn from the diversity of our experiences. Don't hesitate to ask questions!

Share your experience on facebook and instagram with #BuildingCapacity and #YouthinAction.

Get a behind-the-scenes perspective on culture and key players in Venice.

Enjoy convivial networking moments to make new contacts.

Leave with new innovative ideas and enhanced knowledge.

ABOUT OUR PARTNERS

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH:

The National Youth Forum, recognized by Law no. 311 by the Italian Parliament, is the only national platform for Italian youth organizations, with more than 75 organizations within it, for a representation of about 4 million young people.

The Forum Manifesto was drawn up in January 2003 but the Forum was officially launched on February 26, 2004, after a tiring but exciting journey of founding associations. The will of those who have believed in this project from the outset has been and is to give voice to young generations by creating a representative body that could strengthen the network of relationships between youth associations and be promoter of youth interests at Government, Parliament, Social and economic institutions and civil society.

The Forum's strength lies in the variety of its associations, mirroring the heterogeneous ways of young people's civic engagement. Join the Forum Student Associations, Party Youth, Youth Associations of Professional and Trade Unions, Associations Involved in Non Formal Education, Associations of Religious Guilds, Regional Forums, Sports Associations, and so on.

The National Youth Forum is a member of the European Youth Forum (YFJ) representing the interests of young Europeans in international institutions.. www.forumnazionalegiovani.it

HOSTED BY:

For almost fifty years, the Istituto Europeo di Design has been operating in the fields of education and research in the disciplines of design, fashion, visual communication and management. Today, the IED is a constantly expanding international network that issues first-level academic diplomas and organises three-year courses, Masters courses, continuous professional development and advanced training courses.

The most significant milestones in the Group's history include the foundation of the IED campuses in Milan (1966), Rome (1973), Turin (1989), Madrid (1994), Barcelona (2002), São Paulo (2005), Venice (2007), Florence (2008) and Cagliari (2009). In 2012, the Aldo Galli Academy in Como also joined the IED Group and as of 2013 courses have commenced in Rio de Janeiro, the second IED school in Brazil.

Since 1966, the IED has developed innovative and diversified teaching methodologies, focused on synergies between technology and experimentation, creativity, strategies and integrated communication, market issues and a new form of professionalism. Thus does the Istituto Europeo di Design offer young professionals working in the fields of Fashion, Design and Communication the knowledge and the effective tools they need to cater for the constantly developing requirements of the working world.

The nexus between knowledge and knowhow is the indispensable starting point for developing the cultural, creative and critical skills and competencies that are the ultimate goal of education at the IED.. www.ied.edu/ied-locations/venice

WITH THE SUPPORT OF:

Co-funded by the Creative Europe Programme of the European Union

Creative Europe is the EU programme to support European cinema and the cultural and creative sectors, enabling them to increase their contribution to jobs and growth. With a budget of €1.46 billion¹ for 2014-2020, it supports tens of thousands of artists, cultural and audiovisual professionals and organisations in the performing arts, fine arts, publishing, film, TV, music, interdisciplinary arts, heritage, and the video games industry. The funding allows them to operate across Europe, to reach new audiences and to develop the skills needed in the digital age. By helping European cultural works to reach audiences in other countries, the programme will also contribute to safeguarding cultural and linguistic diversity. <http://ec.europa.eu/programmes/creative-europe/>

25th ENCATC Congress on Cultural Management and Policy

*Click, Connect and Collaborate!
New directions in sustaining cultural networks*

Join us 27-30 September 2017
in Brussels, Belgium!

WHAT IS THE ENCATC CONGRESS?

ENCATC's Congress brings the most pertinent and exceptional content and programming on cultural management and policy to top influencers and players in our field.

The 2017 theme of this year's event will be "Click, Connect and Collaborate! New directions in sustaining cultural networks". The Congress is your exciting opportunity to learn from distinguished international experts who will share their insider knowledge and lead discussions with academics, researchers, cultural operators, representatives from local, regional, and national governments, artists, and policy makers.

PRESENT & PUBLISH YOUR WORK FOR AN INTERNATIONAL AUDIENCE

Submit your research abstract or make a thematic session proposal by 15 May

The 8th Annual ENCATC Research Session gathers leading researchers and academics from all over the world to deliver the latest world-class research on cultural management and policy. Meticulously planned under the direction of prominent academics, papers are presented in a unique international, intercultural and interdisciplinary environment.

Currently, there is an open call for abstracts and thematic sessions. Submissions are welcome that relate to the 2017 Congress theme or any relevant discipline will be considered, provided that they make an original academic contribution to the study of arts management and cultural policy.

CELEBRATE 25 YEARS!

Take a moment to celebrate all that we have achieved since 1992

While the Congress will be looking at the future of cultural networks and raise questions for the years to come, we'll also pause to recognise all that we have been able to accomplish so far on this amazing 25 year journey.

To know where we're going, it is important to know where we come from. Who are the people, places, and institutions that have helped ENCATC to become the leading network on cultural management and policy it is today?

Join us in Brussels to learn more about our history and how you can be part of our sustainable future.

A SPECIAL PLACE FOR YOUNG RESEARCHERS

Boosting careers of young/early career cultural policy researchers

The 10th Young Researchers' Forum, to be held during the Congress, is the opportunity to meet fellow researchers as well as established researchers and professionals from Europe and beyond.

Present the research you are working on, papers and projects.

Discuss topical research issues, methodology, professional cooperation, publishing possibilities, as well on-line knowledge exchange and collaboration.

Be part of and gain access to a wider network of hundreds of cultural policy and cultural management researchers who have participated over the years.

Plan your bright research career by making key connections for your future!
